Hi-tech messiah who wants

Vince Stanzione has made £2m from internet gambling on market price movements. Almost anyone could do the same, he tells Jill Insley METALS have been good to Vince Stanzione this autumn. He stands to make at least £100,000 out of copper, and in September, he made £150,000 when the price of gold soared.

But Stanzione does not actually buy the shares or assets that are making him wealthy; his success with copper came from a bet on the price of mining company Anacostita.

He epitomises a new breed of speculator who gambles on price movements through internet betting sites. He uses spread betting, one of several forms of speculation made accessible to the public by web-based technology. Stanzione was originally a City broker, but he believes people don't need any particular expertise to make money from the stock market.

"You just need common sense," he says. He has been so successful at applying his own that he has made about £2 million in the five years he has been placing bets—a period that has included devastating price falls in share prices on 'real' markets. He's lost plenty, too—a

Wealth warning

SPREAD betting, the best known method of financial gambling, has a reputation for being the quickest, most efficient way to lose the shirt off your back. If your bet goes against you, you are likely to lose a lot more than your original stake, so it's not suitable for widows, orphans or anyone who is financially challenged. If you want to test Vince's methods at no risk, you can set up a virtual trading account with £20,000 of pretend money on the spread betting website www.tradindex.com.

quick look at last three months' records shows that he made more than £400,000 on four bets, but lost £17,000 on eight bets.

The knack, he says, is to ensure you stop the losing bets as soon as possible, but to let the winning ones run.

He doesn't pretend to know a lot about the firms, currencies or indices he bets on. He doesn't bother reading what the papers say, and checks price movements only once a day after the markets have closed.

He does not base investment decisions on the fundamental information a fund manager would use. He is a speculator, pure and simple, betting on an asset only when its performance chart gives the right signals, indicating it has achieved momentum in one direction or the other.

"A chart is a picture of what the crowd is doing. You should never be the first in, and never the first out. This means you won't make the maximum possible money out of a share price movement — you make your money on the bit in the middle, because it's impossible to predict where the bottom is."

He runs courses for people who want to follow him. Chelsey Baker, an actress and model who went on the first course about four years ago, says she had no previous experience of shares, but often makes £1,000 a day.

It took about five to six weeks to get to grips with it. It really doesn't take up much time — about half an hour a day, and maybe an hour on Fridays to do a more thorough updating of the markets, Baker adds.

Trading place: spread betting

Many years ago I used to work in the city in one of those busy dealing rooms that you see on television and my job was to buy or sell shares and futures relating to indices or currencies. Now, the banks I worked for would trade millions of pounds, money you or I simply don't have, also we would never want to take these massive risks on. I had always wanted to be able to do what I did for my employer but on my own account in a smaller way, however, until recently the "little guy" just could not get a foot in the door.

You see, many days I would make over 1 million pounds profit for my bank, now my thinking was that if only I could trade a tiny amount and make myself £1,000 a day then I would be delighted.

Some years passed, after leaving the city, I started running my own business successfully and I never really thought about the money-markets again until one day, quite by chance, I saw an article in the Financial Times. Since then I have been able to make money on financial markets just like I used to when I worked for a large bank, but with smaller stakes and with much less risk. Best of all, the profits go directly into my own personal account.

So what exactly do I do and how can you copy me?

Well, it's all pretty elementary really. By placing relatively small trades on whether a market, share, commodity or currency is going up, down or even sideways, I am able to make large returns from the luxury of my home in my spare-time.

On this site you will find statements which give you an idea of what is possible. In most cases working, if that's the right word, no more than 30 minutes to 1 hour a day. Many days I do not spend more than 10 minutes at this. I am also able to trade from overseas, in fact anywhere in the world that has a basic internet connection. This business gives you total freedom.

So all I do is what large banks and financial institutions do, but on a very small scale. I require no license to do this, no specialist equipment and you can trade from your home, office, the back of a yacht or the top of a mountain. The other great advantage is that because of the way I trade and the system I will disclose to you, there is no income or capital gains tax, as your profit is classed as betting and is only subject to betting tax which is now paid by financial bookmakers, so what you earn is yours. (tax rules vary in different countries but you can still operate and profit from this system regardless of where you live)

Thanks to cheap internet access and cheap computing power (a £500 computer does more than my 1 million pound trading computer did in the 80's).

The doors to this once elite club are now wide open and there's nothing to stop you doing the same as the fat cats have been doing for years.

Sun, sand and sangria....

Vincent Stanzone, spreads the word on how he made he's millions!

Vincent Stanzone is a self-made millionaire, in fact he's been his own boss since the age of 16! In this interview he talks about how he made a career and subsequent fortune from spread-betting, the development of his own, easy to operate financial trading system, and strategies on how you too can make millions of pounds working from home.

Vincent Stanzone is 38 years old with millions in the bank, houses all over the world (although he spends most of his time in Mallorca), and the dream job...working in the comfort of his own home. And we're not talking, slaving away for hours, a few minutes each day monitoring and analyzing the worlds indices, is enough to keep his profits ticking over.

I knew from an early age that going into an office job and working a 9 to 5pm just wasn't for me. Trading on the financial markets provided me with that opportunity - I've now been trading for 20 years. But it's not always been easy: "I shut myself away from the outside world and beaver away like some crazy professor, convinced that I was onto something huge."

He says: "I would find myself totally engrossed and captivated oblivious to anything else around me, often ending up working excitedly through the night and well into the small hours."

"Many times I would find myself working through the night, going through formulas, systems, spreadsheets and calculations as I searched to find the best trading opportunities and I tested every aspect of it in minute detail. And I carried on like this for months."

The time spent paid off as his historic and current knowledge of the financial markets grew. Trading the financial markets is not rocket science, says Vincent. "One thing I have learnt through the years is not to bet what you can't afford to lose. Most of day traders will tell you that they lose more trades than they win, but it's the wins and the amount of money that you can make from these that can keep you going." Vincent also makes the point that trading is not for the unemployed or for people that want a quick buck. "Trading like most things, does require a certain amount of knowledge, this is why I launched my workbook teaching people how to make money from spreadbetting."

The workbook which consists of a 200 page folder with step by step instructions on how to start trading, also comes with 2 FREE DVD's and a CD-ROM, these will assist you to chart date and provide you with an insight into Vincents' life trading account and commentary from Vincent on the markets. To find out more about Vincents' workbook you can log on to www.finbetting.net

As a result of his experience and using the techniques in his workbook, Vincent now does in 30 minutes what would have in the past, taken him six months.

The workbook relates to - spread betting in very crude terms, if you think a market is going up you buy the spread, or sell if you think it's going down. Stanzone has made fortunes with accounts with the likes of long established firms such as BetonMarkets and IG Index.

Why am I telling you this?

Firstly, by telling you this it doesn't affect me in any way, if it did then I would not be telling you, there are already thousands of people all around the world doing the same thing, so a few more will not make a difference.

Secondly, many people that have tried to get into this business have failed due to no sound training and poor advice. It upsets me to see people lose their hard earned money to greedy bookmakers, stockbrokers, software vendors, seminar sharks and brokers and I want to give "the little guy" a helping hand. If you read a bit about my background you will see that I started from nothing and came from the school of hard knocks.

Nobody to date has written an honest guide on financial spread trading and how private traders can copy the special techniques that professionals have been making millions with for years. And lastly, I am of course going to make some extra "fun" money from selling my course.

In the past I have told a few friends and family about what I do in a vague way, similar to what I am telling you, but I have never explained to anyone the full nuts and bolts. A few of my friends thinking that this was money for nothing went out and tried it on their own, you guessed it, they lost large amounts of money.

After being pestered for about a year I finally decided to put what I knew about financial markets in writing and I produced a workbook to help these rookie traders out. I've spent a good three years writing this course and I am now selling this information on. I cannot guarantee how long I will be selling this information for, so if you are interested then please do not delay. As I have already stated, I have many other business interests and my own trading is more important.

The other point is that I have rattled a few cages in the financial community so if you decide that you would like to go forward with this business then act now and do not look a gift horse in the mouth for too long.

See there is a way virtually anyone – regardless of experience, knowledge or amount of capital – can realistically be up-and-running making trading profits from the financial markets within 15-days of reading this letter.

And don't worry, you won't have to pay out thousands of pounds to "learn the ropes" or put your life savings at risk in the process.

As a matter of fact, if you give me your permission...

I Would Like To Send You My Trading System For You To Use (And Profit From) For An Entire Year — For FREE, If You Choose

I'll explain the full details of this "can't lose" offer in a second. But first, here's something important you should know:

Meet a self-made millionaire

Josephine O'Donoghue chats with Vince Stannione about his self-made wealth, trading on the stock market and the economy today.

What a huge amount of money, a million in the bank and a 6-figure lifestyle, you'd be forgiven for thinking. These figures are not some sort of fantasy, but for one trader, they are the result of a highly successful trading system. We asked her how she did it.

What is your background in the stock market?

I left school at the with a few O Levels and managed to get a job as a junior in a bank. I worked there for a few years until I was offered a position in a foreign exchange office. From there I worked up and in less than 12 years I was trading multi dollar positions for a large American bank both in the UK and then in the US. I traded in the pit as well as studying everything I could to do with trading and markets. I was always good with computers and used to be the bank's computer programmer to some trading system.

Describe your trading style.

I trade following all the money both in business and trading. I've never been wrong and getting to see them. I don't claim to be the first or the last but the first in the world, which is many times a big bit, is when I make my money. Most of the time I don't mind making money both from going short (selling things to go down) or long (buying things to go up). In many cases I have a spread of trades and trade pairs for example. Short US Dollars/Long Gold, Short US Dollars/Long UK, Short US Dollars/Long Euro, which was one of my actual trades in 2008.

How did you develop your trading system?

It was a build up from the knowledge I saw and whilst trading in real life situations. It has also always had an interest in psychology and the people at the time. I've done all about psychology, trends and perceptions. What does a trader of 100 million in 2008 and then a few months later in 2009?

It's all about perceptions, greed and fear. I read various books and papers mainly from the 1980s to 1990s period and realised that trading was never the same and what happened in the past would repeat.

How is your method of trading different from the rest?

Many try to predict and be clever by calling tops and bottoms of markets. I trade with trends and with what's happening rather than what should be happening. I have been around a long time and seen plenty of people and systems come and go, yet I am still here, so that tells you something. Another main difference in my system is that I trade markets such as commodities, shares, currencies and indices. I trade as the fallow, they change and you need to adapt with them.

Can you offer any tips to anyone interested in spread betting?

There are always opportunities in markets, especially for trading both on the up and down. I like to trade positions rather than try to guess what the market will do. I am happy to see what the market will do and then I will be off. I am happy to see what the market will do and then I will be off. I am happy to see what the market will do and then I will be off.

What are your trading tips for 2009?

Well, there has been a crash for everyone or

Although my trading system has been developed over a 24-year period... costing me hundreds of thousands of pounds in the process to iron out all the “bugs”...

It's Now Actually Surprisingly Simple To Follow

The reason?

It's because my trading system is based on 3 “core truths” about the financial markets very few people (including some “experienced” financial traders) fully understand:

CORE CONCEPT 1: With my trading system you never place a trade where you stand to lose more than you can afford. This means you always have peace of mind if the markets go against you.

CORE CONCEPT 2: Although your potential losses are limited... the profits you can make following my trading system are literally unlimited. For example, it's not unheard of to turn a £50 trade into a profit of £500 or more. And do so within just a few days.

CORE CONCEPT 3: Because my trading system is based on what's called Spread Trading – you basically “bet” on the “spread” (or price movements) in a market. And you can “bet” on the price movement going up or down... and even... sideways.

Do you understand what this means?

It means – when you follow my trading system –

You Can Even Make Money When Your “Investment” Drops In Value

You can start slowly making very small trades. And when you feel more confident, you can start placing bigger trades more frequently.

It's entirely up to you. Go as fast or as slow as you like.

But just to give you an idea of what is really possible following my trading system – take a look at what Dr. Kremer did...

Just 8-days after putting my trading system to the “test” Dr. Kremer made a clear profit of £7,900.

“The trading system is impeccable and the judgment acquired is beyond price. Within eight days I had made £7,900, quite incredible”

—Dr M Kremer (trading statements on file)

And look at what Chris Muldoon did...

Chris got a hold of my trading system and set an audacious target to make £250,000 within 12-months. Last I heard, Chris was in profit to the tune of £230,000 and decided to treat himself to a holiday of a lifetime in New Zealand.

“I am just saying thank you for your course and video which has enabled me to become a successful trader. I have had a great year, my target was £250,000 and I am up £230,000 to the 11/7 when I closed 90% of my trades and went to New Zealand. I have only started back trading today and feel more relaxed and more confident than ever before. Thanks again”

And by the way, I’ve got stacks of real signed testimonials – (more of which you can see reproduced at the bottom of this page) – from all kinds of people from something like 80 different countries who have successfully used my trading system – including restaurant owners, dentists, florists, fish and chip shop owners, jewellers, doctors, housewives, London black cab drivers, and even Harley Street heart surgeons.

All of those testimonials have been obtained in strict accordance with section 14.1 of the Advertising Standards Authority code. I also have filmed testimonials and you can view some of them in a moment.

And judging by some of the testimonials some of the people had shelled out hundreds... sometimes even thousands of pounds... purchasing a multitude of “how to” trading courses or attending seminars... but, they never made the “breakthrough” to consistent trading success until they started following my system

And listen:

I don’t want to appear to be showing off – but following my own spread trading system (based on the 3 core truths listed above) it’s not unrealistic for me to make a daily trading profit of £5,000.

Actually, that is not entirely true.

The real truth is this: I make a trading profit of £5,000 a day from the financial markets...

Only When I've Had A BAD Day!

On good days, when the markets go my way (which can be up... down... or even sideways)... I will make as much as £15,000 to £20,000.

That doesn't happen every day, of course. But it does happen.

Although my average weekly trading income is currently around £24,519 (which I'd be more than happy to verify with anyone who wants me to).

In the meantime, here's one of my real (and verifiable) trading statements.

Take a look:

The screenshot displays a trading software interface with the following data:

YES that is £175,793.00 running profit. At the bottom of this letter you will find a photo of me collecting a cheque for £109,731.19 which was made in just over one week.

Which brings up a point:

Based on the numbers I'm doing – you may think I must have a big "back room" staff using all kinds of sophisticated trading equipment not available to most people.

And I can fully understand why you would think that. But the truth of the matter is, I'm essentially just a "one-man-band"... I use the exact same trading system used by my worldwide "students".

In fact, do you want to know something interesting?

I do 90% of my trading from a laptop computer sitting on the terrace of my private villa in Mallorca (which is where I choose to spend most of the year) or sitting by the yachts at the nearby Puerto Portals marina sipping a cappuccino.

Again, my reason for telling you all this about me is not to show off or make you envy me in any way. I'm simply trying to communicate how simple... yet very rewarding (both financially and by way of peace of mind) trading "my way" can be for you.

It's not like I'm any better than you either. Nor are my financial trading students.

Most of my students were completely new to trading before they started following my system, and yet, many of them now trade profitably from their home computer. Or portable laptop whenever travelling.

Something else to consider:

It's not like you have to be glued to a computer screen 12-hours a day, either.

In fact, as I often point out to my trading students...

If You Are Spending More Than 30-Minutes A Day Trading... You're Probably Doing Something Terribly Wrong!

Which I think you'll find is a complete 180-degree "u-turn" on most other trading "systems" you'll come across.

Anyway, my trading system is called, "Making Money From Financial Spread Trading" and here are few of the specific things you'll learn if you choose to get it:

- How to trade commodities – such as oil, gas, platinum, copper, coffee and sugar, to name a few. And how from profit from both UP and DOWN price movements in the commodities markets.
- How to trade on interest rates such as bonds, long gilt, Euro Dollar and Euro Swiss.
- How to trade individual UK shares, European and US shares and make trading profits when the share's price movements go UP and DOWN.
- How to trade virtual property using Property Futures. This way you can trade on your house price to rise or fall.

- How to make money from digital options and make profitable trades when markets go SIDEWAYS.
- The 3 steps that take 10 minutes a day (either in the evening or first thing in the morning) which will GUARANTEE you are trading the right shares and markets.
- Why the crowd is always wrong 90% of the time – and how to profit from this situation.
- The one “insider” report that you must check every week (available free online) that tells you what is really happening in the stock market.
- How to make money with different trading strategies. Here I reveal my EXACT rules for buying and selling a trade that are so clear, I could teach a 12-year-old my strategies over a weekend and they would beat 90% of fund managers.
- The real facts about technical trading and reading trading charts correctly. By the way, 90% of all technical trading formations and indications do not work. It has been proven in numerous studies – yet many traders still teach and follow these loser strategies. I’ll show you the 10% that work and how to follow them in an easy and straight-forward format.
- How to use options and hedging techniques to protect your long-term share portfolio. You can now also hedge the value of your home so you can lock in its current value if you think house prices are due to fall.
- A full list of all the financial bookmakers (who are totally independent) I also explain how to squeeze the best out of your broker and how to use special orders so they do the hard work for you and you do not need to be stuck at a computer screen.

- I'll explain the secrets to my trading style – including what I look for in the markets and how I trade.
- I'll explain where to get free information from the Internet which is “out of bounds” from the general public. This way you can see what the professional traders are buying and selling.
- The golden rules of financial spread trading – taken from 23-years of my personal trading... my clients trading history... and... over 100 years of research and back-testing. I will reveal the exact rules winning traders follow and what the loser traders do.

Anyway, if you decide to request a copy of my trading system today, you will be sent my “Making Money From Financial Spread Trading” package, which includes:

COMPONENT 1: “MAKING MONEY FROM FINANCIAL SPREAD TRADING” 2010 EDITION WORKBOOK MANUAL

This manual has spawned an entire army of successful independent financial traders in numerous countries all over the world.

It contains the exact “blueprint” I myself (and my many students) use to make hundreds... thousands... and even... tens of thousands of pounds a week... from the financial markets.

In a nutshell, this manual has transformed the lives of literally thousands of people in virtually every English-speaking country on Earth.

And no, you cannot get this manual in any bookstore. As a matter of fact...

You Cannot Get It Anywhere Else

You may find plenty of “knock-offs” – but not the real thing.

Anyway, this A-4 manual in durable vinyl folder is easy to follow. It “takes-you-by-the-hand” and leads you through the entire “A-Z” process of setting yourself up... and... making money as an independent financial trader.

In case you're wondering, here's a quick glimpse of the secrets you will discover when you go through the "Making Money From Financial Spread Trading" manual:

- The intriguing "behind-the-scenes" story of how I went from a 16-year-old social and academic drop-out making just £5,200 a year – to making my first million at age 26, and multiple millions by age 36 (pages 7 – 8).
- What the trading bookmakers don't want you to know (and pray you never find out) so they can keep "picking your pockets" without getting arrested (page 138).
- How to trade and profit from financial indices – these are great if you need extra money sitting in your bank account by the end of the same day you place your trade (pages 25 – 30).

- The “invisible secrets” behind my phenomenal trading success. I list 8 secrets from my multi-millionaire perspective. These are the secrets I wish I could have told “myself” 20 years ago. My favourite is secret number 3 – it says, “_____” (see pages 135 – 137).
- How to legally “lock in” profits from your trades – even if you get hit over the head and suffer memory loss just after you’ve placed a trade. This secret is especially appealing to people who like trade in the day and sleep like a baby at night (page 31).
- What I learnt (and what you definitely need to know) from my “cut-and-thrust” experience as a financial broker to private clients who are mercenary in their pursuit of trading profits (pages 133 – 135).
- How to “employ” financial brokers to do all your “dirty work” – then make money on the markets by refusing to take the brokers call. (pages 33 – 34).
- Examples of how to make money from an UP trade and examples of how to make money from a DOWN trade (pages 36 – 37).
- A borderline “nationalistic” trading principle that instantly enables you to dip in and “siphon off” money from daily price movements of $3.2 TRILLION. (Don’t worry – there’s nothing unethical or evil about this. In fact, the banking heads of other countries ENCOURAGE you to trade this way). (See pages 39 – 46).
- The most dangerous thing you can do to yourself once you’ve placed your trade. And what to do instead (page 125).

- Where to place your very first trade. This “market opportunity” gives you 3 advantages that you would be silly to ignore (page 54).
- What to look at on your computer screen that will enable even a raw novice to instantly “read the mindset” of a market. This is good information to know if you want to put the “unfair” law of physics on your side when placing (and exiting) a trade (pages 118 – 121).
- How to make money from the markets (using a rarely used trading technique) that enables you to make money when a market “flat lines” and moves SIDEWAYS (page 72).
- Why (contrary to popular belief) you should pray for volatility and even financial market crashes (page 78).
- An easy and 100% ethical way to trade like an “insider” – without breaking the law (page 105 – 106).
- How to see “unseen forces” operating in every market and how to “harness” each of those forces to “stack the deck in your favour” when trading (pages 89 – 93).
- How to know with almost “Swiss watch” like accuracy when to enter and when to exit a trade for maximum profits and minimum losses. Your friends will think you’re some kind of financial “psychic-spy” (pages 96 – 101).

There’s more. A LOT more.

How one man brought spread betting from the city trading rooms to the suburban living rooms

By Sally Hamilton

When ex city dealer and entrepreneur Vince Stanzione decided to publish his course on financial spread betting around three years ago, many city professionals were very negative about what he had done. At that time, most of the spread betting clientele were working in the city or had a city background. The idea

You Can “Paper Trade” The System With No Money On The Line

Until you’re ready to trade with real money for real profits, of course!

Anyway, here’s the bottom line:

After going through the entire “Making Money From Financial Spread Trading” package – (it will only take you a few hours, a few days at most) – you’ll never again be at the mercy of any “paymaster”. Never fear your savings “running dry”. And never worry about being able to treat yourself (and your family) to the “finer things” in life.

Of course, that's not to say you'll never have a losing trade following my trading system. You will have losing trades. That's the honest truth.

But, by following my trading system in a sensible way – you will have more winning trades than losing trades... and... because of the "trading leverage" built into my system... the money you make will more than make up for the money you lose.

If after reading this you are eager to start following my trading system – you probably want to know what the "Making Money From Financial Spread Trading" costs?

For a number of years I have been selling the package for £347.00.

Considering I have literally made multiple MILLIONS (and also lost over £100,000) perfecting this trading system over the last 24-years – I consider £347 to be dirt-cheap.

However, because many people are "hurting" financially due to the current downturn in the economy, I am prepared (for a strictly limited time only) to...

Help Finance Your Purchase

Here's what that means:

If you commit to £197 today – you do not have to pay me the balance of £150 until you make a clear trading profit of £1,000.

That's how confident I am in the "Making Money From Financial Spread Trading" package.

Penman met him for a brace of Becks to delve into the secrets of financial spread betting. So far, Vince has had a great year. "I've made a lot of money buying the euro and done very well buying gold," he said. But it's not always like this. "I was betting on the markets going down and there was a surprise interest rate cut," he said. "I went from being £30,000 up to £10,000 down in the blink of an eye." Vince hopes to make extra cash selling his know-how. To find out more visit www.thespreadtrades.com

P.P.S. If spread trading is so simple — why do you need my “Making Money From Financial Spread Trading” package? That’s a valid question.

The answer is: Maybe you don’t need the package of material — because after reading this message you’ve decided financial trading won’t be your cup of tea. Fair enough.

However, if you think you’d like to try your hand at trading the markets — let me say this: I’ve so many people lose money on the financial markets by trying to take short cuts and buying into “hot tip” services. All these people seem to end up losing thousands of pounds just to save a few quid on a solid education.

If you want the best education on financial spread trading money can buy — then just go to www.thefinancialtrader.co.uk

Meet a self-made millionaire

Josephine O'Donoghue chats with Vince Stanzone about his self-made wealth, trading on the stock market and the economy today

With a huge mansion in Mallorca, millions in the bank and a dream lifestyle, you'd be forgiven for thinking Vince Stanzone was some sort of celebrity. In fact, he made his fortune by spread betting on the stock-market and developing his knack of predicting trends into a wildly successful trading system. We decided to find out more.

What is your background in economics / the stock market?

I left school at 16 with a few O levels and managed to get a job as a junior at NatWest World Money Centre in Foreign Exchange in 1985 on the grand salary of £100 a week. From there I worked up and in less than 2 years I was trading multi-dollar positions for a large American Bank both in the UK and then in the USA. I trained on the job as well as studying everything I could in the evenings and weekends. I was always good with computers and would use the banks computers to programme my own trading systems.

Describe your trading style
Trend following; all my money both in business and trading has come from seeing trends and getting in on them. I don't claim to be first in or first out but the bit in the middle, which in many cases is a big bit, is where I make my money. Also unlike most I don't mind making money both from going short (betting things to go down) or long (betting things to go up). In many cases I have a spread of trades and trade pairs for example: Short US$ Index – Long Gold; Short Tiffany & Co. – Long McDonalds, which was one of my actual trades in 2008.

How did you develop your trademark betting style and method?

It was a build up from the knowledge I amassed whilst trading in real life situations. I have also always had an interest in psychology and why people act the way they do. Markets are all about psychology, crowds and perceptions – why does a barrel of oil cost $40 and then a few months later it's at $147?

It's all about perceptions, greed and fear. I read various books and papers mainly from the 1900 to 1960 period and realised that nothing was new in markets and what happened in the past would repeat.

How is your method of training different from the rest?

Many try to predict and be clever by calling tops and bottoms of markets; I trade with trends and with what's happening rather than what should be happening. I have been around a long time and seen plenty of people and systems come and go, yet I am still here, so that tells you something. Another main difference is my systems adapt to various markets such as commodities, shares, currencies and indices – trends are like fashion; they change and you need to adapt with them.

How long did it take to perfect your system?

It's taken a good 10 years. I am now at the point where, while I may make a few minor tweaks, the core system has not changed over the last 2 years. While every trader wants to improve and every day is a learning process you have to resist the temptation to keep messing with what's working.

What are your predictions for 2009 – will there be a crunch for everyone or ## will you still benefit from the changing market?

There are always opportunities in markets, especially for trading both on the up and down. I don't make predictions; rather I let my systems tell me what the trends are. Right now I am buying agriculture and soft commodities such as soybeans, wheat, corn, coffee and cotton. After a large sell off in the second half of last year these prices are starting to recover.

Can you offer any tips to anyone interested in spread betting?

Invest in education (and I am not saying that just because I have a course!). I would have paid anything to have learnt the information in my course rather than have to go through the pain and suffering of losses to learn it the hard way.

Once you have studied hard, then start trading with a few small bets and work up from there. Also start reading about psychology, understand your own, and understand crowd psychology. ■
